ADMITS NEW'S DEFEAT

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 3.—Nomination of Albert J. Beveridge as the republican senatorial candidate over Senator Harry S. New was conceded at three o'clock this afternoon by Fred I. King, state manager for the senator.

"It appears certain Mr. Beveridge has been nominated," King said. "Returns from Lake county gave him a much larger majority than we anticipated and it seems sufficient to assure his nomination."

Returns from 2,596 precincts gave Beveridge a lead of 16,445 over New. The vote stood Beveridge, 145,324; New, 128,872.

Washington, May 3.—"It was the women who did it."

This was the statement, summing up the result of the Indiana senatorial primary, which was given by the United Press this afternoon by Senator James E. Watson, Senator New's colleague. At that hour partial returns showed New considerably behind Albert J. Beveridge for the republican nomination.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 3.—Nomination of Albert J. Beveridge as republican senatorial candidate for Indiana over Senator Harry S. New, seemed virtually assured at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon on the basis of returns from more than two-thirds.

Draw Straws To Decide On The Nominee

lican Nomination For Assessor in Rushville. Who Tied With 587
Votes Each—Aultman Lucky Candidate.

The republican nominee for assessor in Rushville township was decided by lot today, George T. Aultman, the incumbent winning over William H. Hardwick, his opponent, when straws were drawn to settle the controversy.

The unofficial count Tuesday night showed Aultman and Hardwick tied with 587 votes each.

The inspectors of the ten voting precincts in Rushville township, who constituted the canvassing board, met this morning in the office of James V. Young, township trustee, canvassed the vote and found that each had received 587 votes.

The law provides that in ties of this character, the nominee shall be determined by lot, and the canvassers elected to resort to the old-time method of "drawing straws." It was agreed before hand that Trustee Young should select two straws of different lengths and that his father, George W. Young, should draw one. If he pulled out the long straw, Mr. Aultman was to be declared the winner, and if the short straw were

TROWBRIDGE IS NOMINATED

Mays Man Gets Majority of 520 in
Rush and Henry Counties

Charles M. Trowbridge of Mays was an easy winner over Fred A. Bills of Washington township in the race for the republican nomination for joint senator from Rush and Henry counties, in the primary election Tuesday. Mr. Trowbridge rolled up a majority of 1005 in this county, which more than offset the majority of 485 which Henry county gave Bills.

Trowbridge's official majority was 520. He received 2239 votes in Henry county and 1202 in this county, making his total 3926.

County Primary Highlights
Jesse Winkler defeated S. H. Young, incumbent, for the republican nomination for the middle district by 19 votes.

Earl F. Priest was renominated for county assessor by the republicans with a majority of 1430.

Prosecutor Albert C. Stevens lost to John F. Joyce for prosecutor on the republican ticket by six votes.

William H. Hardwick and George T. Aultman, incumbent tied in the race for Rushville township assessor on the republican ticket with 587 votes each.

Close and furious races feature township contests, one candidate winning by four votes and another by six.

Beveridge's majority over New was 623.

Ralston had little opposition for senator among the democrats, winning a plurality of 1413.

Fifty percent of the number of voters participating in the general election in 1920, which was a record year, went to the polls in the Rush county primary election, Tuesday, which was featured by some large pluralities and close races.

The total vote cast for the candidates for senator on both tickets Tuesday was 5590, which was a surprise to political observers, who estimated yesterday that not more than one-third of the normal vote would be registered.

The heavy vote was largely confined to the out townships where candidates engaged in some very hot races for trustee, assessor and ad-

A RACE IN EVERY TOWNSHIP

W. H. Hardwick and Geo. T. Ault-

Township With 587 Votes Each

The township contests provided most of the fireworks in the primary election Tuesday. There was not a township which did not have a contest for either trustee, assessor or the advisory board on one or both of the tickets.

Anderson and Ripley townships both participated in spectacular contests for trustee on the republican side and Posey township republicans and democrats each had a close race for trustee and assessor. This resulted in large votes in many townships.

The only contest in Rushville township resulted in a tie, George T. Aultman and William H. Hardwick, republican candidates for assessor, each polling 587 votes.

The vote by precincts was as follows:

Precinct	Hardwick	Aultman
1	86	66
2	105	108
3	84	69

The democrats of the second precinct of Noble township staged the only scrap for precinct committee-man, George U. Spillman defeating Clifton Stamm by 12, the vote by 28 to 16.

The democrats of Walker township also put on the only fight for township advisory board. There were five candidates, with three to be elected. The winners were Benjamin F. Purcell, 205; Fred Gross, 193; and William Mitchell, 183. The two low men were Hiram R. Brown, 173, and Albert F. Gahmer, 166.

The republicans of Noble township nominated Charley C. Carney

Three Inspectors Delay County Election Board

As is generally the rule in a county election, precinct inspectors delayed the work of the county board of election commissioners in canvassing the vote by failing to bring the returns to the clerk's office here immediately after the count was completed, as provided by law.

Three inspectors were the offenders this time and they kept the board up all night. Messengers were sent after Ed Farthing, inspector in Richland township, who did not show up until shortly before six o'clock this morning.

Messengers also had to be sent after Ad Richey, inspector in precinct No. 1 of Orange township, and Roy Small, inspector in No. 2 of Posey township, had to be called on the telephone about four o'clock.

SCHOOL CENSUS IN CITY SHOWS A GAIN

Count Conducted by Mrs. Allie Aldridge Reveals 1273 Persons
of School Age

INCREASE OF 24 OVER 1921

There Are 632 Boys and 621 Girls,
and 52 Are Colored Compared
With 48 Last Year

The city school census has been completed and Mrs. Allie Aldridge, who canvassed the city for the school board, reports a gain of 24 in the census since last year, with a total of 1273 persons of school age now, as compared with 1249 last year.

The school census as required by law, included all persons between the ages of 6 and 21, regardless of whether or not they attend school, as it is upon the number of school age people that the county is reimbursed from the state in taxes paid.

Mrs. Aldridge reports some very interesting facts in her report of Rushville city in that there are more boys of that age than girls, with 632 boys and 621 girls, and that the colored children number 52, as compared with 48 last year, with 28 girls and 24 boys.

There are 322 children between the ages of 14 and 16 inclusive, her report states, as this information is asked by the state. The report also shows that there are 103 children at the age of six, with some of them now in school, and nearing their seventh birthday.

The city is divided into two groups upon which the census is taken. The 13th Congressional township is that portion of the city south of Fifth street, and the 14th congressional township lies north of Fifth street.

There are 739 children in the north township, and 508 in the south township, and 26 children who are inmates of state institutions or state homes, but whose parents reside within the city, making the total of 1273 of school age.

Mrs. Aldridge stated that she worked untiringly since April 10, when the work began, and she is very much elated over the fact that the school census shows a gain.

An ordinance to protect the public health against disease and poisons carried by flies, to reduce fire hazards, and providing for sanitary regulations in general, abolishing outside toilets, was passed Tuesday night at the city council, which held a busy session.

The new ordinance was given final passage last night when the rules were suspended and the bill pushed through, setting out that people have six months in which to make the necessary repairs as set out by the new ordinance.

The complete ordinance will be published as an advertisement in a day or so, and when signed by Mayor Thomas, becomes a law, and penalties are provided for failing to

MRS. OLIVE RIGGS DIES EARLY TODAY

Former Rushville Music Teacher and
Organist Expires at Fayette
Memorial Hospital

FUNERAL HERE ON FRIDAY

Mrs. Claude Riggs of Connorsville, age thirty-three years, formerly Miss Olive Buell of this city, died at the Fayette Memorial hospital this morning at 7:15 o'clock. She was operated on at the hospital last Saturday evening for a poisonous infection of the face, which was not thought at first to be serious, but later caused her condition to be critical.

Mrs. Riggs was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Buell, living a short distance east of Rushville, and was an accomplished musician. She was a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and the Dunning School of Music at Chicago. Mrs. Riggs was associated with Miss Jessie Kitchen here as a teacher of piano and was organist at the First Presbyterian church for a few years previous to her marriage, which occurred eight months ago.

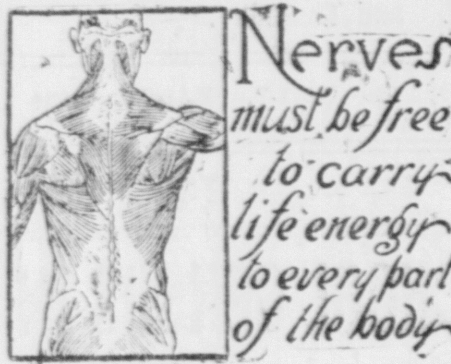

Besides her husband and parents, the deceased is survived by one sister, Mrs. Neff Ashworth of Connorsville; one brother, Scott Buell of this city; a half brother, Don C. Buell of Gings; and a half sister, Mrs. Fred Neutzenhelzer.

Brief services will be held at the late residence in Connorsville Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and the funeral will take place at the First Presbyterian church here at 3:30 the same afternoon, with burial in East Hill cemetery.

TRUCK GROWERS KEEP FEW COWS

Small Herds of Animals Being Maintained for Purpose of Obtaining Fertilizer.

SURPLUS MATERIAL UTILIZED

Practice of Keeping Live Stock Is to Be Strongly Recommended in Sections Where It Can Be Done Profitably.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

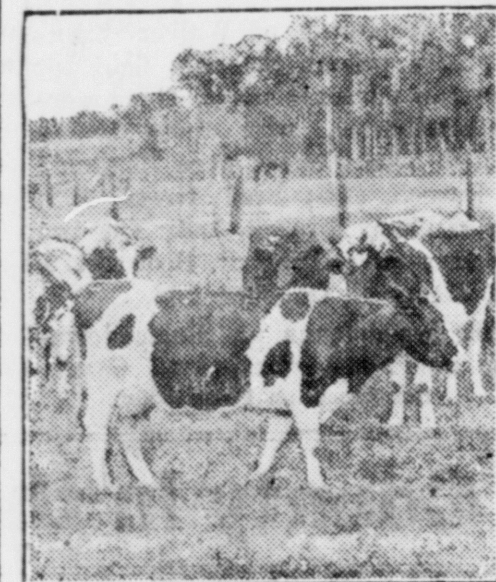

Truck growers and greenhouse men in the Eastern states are finding it increasingly difficult to secure a supply of stable manure, and some growers have adopted the practice of keeping a small herd of cows or other stock for the purpose of supplying manure, and as a means of utilizing surplus or waste material. The problem of maintaining soil fertility under present conditions was discussed at the recent meeting of the Vegetable Growers' Association of America, at Albany, N. Y., and it was the opinion of the vegetable growers and state federal workers present that the practice of keeping live stock is to be strongly recommended in sections where this can be done profitably.

Scarcity of Plant Food.

The head of the vegetable garden department of the Massachusetts Agricultural college reported that: "A study of the census shows that the decrease in horses in Massachusetts from 1910 to 1920 is such that 13,000 fewer acres can now be furnished with 20 tons of stable manure per acre than in 1910. To offset this loss in plant food, which was formerly obtained from stable manure, will require the expenditure of between $1,200,000 and $1,400,000. Even then we lack that all-important effect of the inoculated organic matter contained in manure and for which no equally efficient substitute has been found."

While this disregards the cost of the manure formerly used to supply the plant food, it is probable that it was much less than the cost of the fertilizer now purchased. This problem is not confined to any one state, but with a few local exceptions is being felt throughout the territory in which vegetable crops are grown for the markets.

At the Lexington (Mass.) field station, which is conducted under the direction of the State College of Agriculture as an experiment station, what are termed "manure economy investigations" are being conducted. In these tests the use of stable manure in moderate quantities is being supplemented by commercial fertilizers, soil-building crops, crop rotations and other means of maintaining soil fertility.

Waste Is Utilized.

Growers of canning crops such as peas and sweet corn have for years past followed the practice of utilizing the vines, fodder and other waste in the form of silage for the feeding of sheep, beef cattle, or dairy cows, this practice supplying them with large quantities of manure. Renewed attention is now being directed to this practice, and in sections where the European corn borer has made its appearance many growers have found it desirable to erect silos for the utilization of the surplus material, feeding this to their stock, thereby securing manure for their crops, and also largely controlling the corn borer. The United States Department of Agriculture strongly recommends these practices wherever conditions will warrant the keeping of live stock.

The race for township assessor in Rushville township also brought out a large republican vote, which amounted to 1174 and was approximately one-half of the vote cast for Harding in Rushville township in 1920. That vote was 2321. The democratic vote in Rushville township was light, however, due to the absence, it is believed, of any township contest.

Former Senator Beveridge carried the county over Senator New with a majority of 623 and Congressman Elliott walked away from the field of four candidates for congress on the republican ticket with a plurality of 1647, but the races between Samuel H. Young and Jesse Winkler for commissioner of the middle district and John F. Joyce and Albert C. Stevens for prosecutor, both on the republican ticket, provided the real thrills.

Mr. Joyce finally triumphed over the present prosecutor by six votes and Mr. Winkler defeated Mr. Young, who is the present commissioner, by nineteen votes, but at one time unofficial complete returns gave Mr. Stevens the nomination by a few votes and made it appear that Mr. Young had been defeated by one vote.

Earl F. Priest, county assessor, proved to be the champion runner on the county tickets, defeating Henry W. Schrader for the nomination on the republican ticket by 1430 votes.

Harry (Hal) Gosnell, commissioner from the southern district, was renominated over Charles Owen on the republican ticket by a majority of 137 and Frank Lawrence of Arlington won over Joseph A. Stevens of this city in the republican race for county treasurer, rolling up a majority of 337.

The democrats of the county had a decided preference for Samuel M. Ralston in the senatorial race, giving him a plurality of 1413. The highest vote for any other of the four candidates was 93. James A. Clifton, mayor of Connersville, carried the county in the democratic race for congress, winning a plurality of 22. John A. D. Wagoner of Walker township carried the county by 662 over his Henry county opponent, Strode Hays, in the race for the democratic nomination for joint representative. Leonidas M. Coons Walker township defeated Robert

Irvine of Arlington for the democratic nomination for sheriff, rolling up a majority of 304.

Discounting the Count

A COUNT used to be a man in charge of a count of 500 persons to whom he was a sort of overlord. This is not true today because of altered political conditions. We still have Counts, but the Count business has changed somewhat.

Business, of all kinds, has undergone something of a revolution. It was not so many years ago that pack peddlers were the sole distributors and transporters of many of the household articles of the day. Their legs set the limits for most distribution problems in those days.

Modern transportation, progressive sales methods—and advertising—have broken the shackles of time. They make a speedy job of what used to take years. Through advertising many an article has been introduced simultaneously in stores all over the country.

Advertising today is the method used by business to tell you why you should have certain goods and how to identify those goods. The advertisements you find here are a truthful catalog of needed merchandise.

TWO SUITS GO BY DEFAULT

Judgment Given Two Defendants in Justice Stech's Court

Three suits were tried this morning in Justice Stech's court, two by default and one in which judgment was assessed. The suit of the Arlington Telephone company against Charley Stout, and a suit by the same plaintiff against Thomas Stout was scheduled for trial, and the two defendants defaulted, with judgment being taken against the first for $16.60 and against the last for the amount of $47.77. Each were suits on accounts.
In the suit against John M. Brown, filed by Frank Wilson and Company, another suit on an account, the defendant acknowledged the account, and judgment amounting to $63.43 was rendered.

Bowling Is Old Diversion.
Bowling once was forbidden by law. The game was originally nine-pins, and was called "cloche," the definition being given as: "Cloche, the game at nine-pins; forbidden by statute, anno 17 Edw. IV." The prohibition was afterward withdrawn and the game became very popular. It was once also a popular gambling game in the United States and in some states was prohibited by law. The law was evaded by adding another pin and calling it ten-pins.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Old Nest" Comes Today.

When "The Old Nest" comes to the New Princess theatre today, the people of Rush county will have a chance to see a picture that has been hailed by critics and reviewers as the most satisfying all-American picture that has yet been produced. The theme, that of a mother who sees her six children leave her, one by one, is common to American families. All the poignancy of feeling that these leave-takings arouse in real life have been caught on the screen. Rupert Hughes is the author of this unusual tale of mother love. He has sought to present a cross-section of a universal theme as applied to an American family. All the joys and sorrows connected with raising a family have been dramatized. Each of the children grow to manhood and womanhood with his own individual interests, then leaves the old nest to follow the call of his desires. Only their mother is left in her loneliness and her memories. But, as in every American family, the young remember the old nest and return to it.

The picture was produced by Goldwyn and was directed by Reginald Barker. Mary Alden plays the old mother, and her performance has been said to be a masterpiece of screen acting.

"Western Speed," Mystic.

Charles Jones, the popular William Fox star, comes to the Mystic theatre, today in "Western Speed," a story by the famous magazine writer, William Patterson White.

From the opening flash to the closing scene Jones ranges romantically through a series of fist fights, gun battles and daring rides which net him the love of the woman who earlier in the story held him in utter hatred. The picture affords the rough and rugged hero ample opportunity to display the talents which have made him so beloved by motion picture enthusiasts the world over.

"Western Speed" is said to be packed with the stirring action of the plains, showing Jones at his best. It's described as a story with more speed than a torfado and more power than an earthquake; one that will send a thrill through the spines of even the most sophisticated. Eileen Percy is seen as the heroine.

Heavy Vote a Surprise

The vote in the primary election in Rush county Tuesday was much heavier than anticipated by party leaders and candidates and was contrary to the indications Tuesday. The vote in the rural districts, however, was largely responsible for the vote being heavier than anticipated, and this accounted for by the fact that every township had a local contest for trustee, assessor or township advisory, on one or the other of the tickets.

Politicians and political observers generally agree that the races for offices where the candidates are well known by the voters, are required to get the voters to the polls.

This is the only real value of the primary. It is a good system for settling local nominations, but when candidates for congress, especially are involved, the primary is a useless waste of effort.

It is certain that only a very small percent of the voters were acquainted with the qualifications of any of the candidates for congress in this district. The only one of the seven on both tickets generally known is Richard N. Elliott, present congressman, by reason of his having served in public office. The average voter knew nothing of the other candidates and could not vote intelligently.

This was very well demonstrated in the democratic race for the United States senatorial nomination. Charles Franklin Howard polled seventy-two votes in this county and it is doubtful if any one of the seventy-two who voted for him can tell anything about Howard, where he lives, what his occupation is or what his qualifications for the office are. It is very likely that he received these votes because his name appeared at the head of the ticket on some ballots due to the names of candidates being rotated.

The fact of the matter is that he is a political accident. He is a postcard vendor at Windfall, Ind., according to local democrats, who slipped in and got the nomination for congress four years ago. He was defeated and decided to try his luck or the senatorial job.

The Woman of Poise

Once a rarity, is now to be observed and admired upon every hand. Indeed, no other women can flourish in the midst of this modern, complicated life. In the home, in business, in social life, the woman who is serene and confident wins, while the nervous, flustered individual wastes her talents and gets nowhere. Of course, poise is dependent mainly upon sound health and steady nerves. If you feel that you are being kept back in this way, why not turn to that great woman's remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which was manufactured from a thorough understanding of the nervous system of women? (Advertisement).

Not this lad. Raising the ball aloft, he exclaimed triumphantly: "Mirabile dictu—it's found!"—Boston Transcript.

MRS. HAWKINS REPORTS A GAIN OF 22 POUNDS

Health is so Perfect Since Taking Tanlac It is Hard to Realize She is Same Person, Declares The Little Indianapolis Woman

"It is hard for me to realize that I am the same person I was a short time ago. My health is perfect now and I have gained twenty-two pounds in weight in a remarkably short time," said Mrs. H. F. Hawkins, 621 East 25th St., Indianapolis, Ind.

"I had been in ill health for years and was growing worse all the time. It is just beyond my power to describe the tortures I used to suffer from indigestion. To make bad matters worse, last winter I had an attack of the flu which left me with so little vitality and so weak I never expected to know a well day again.

"Tanlac has made me feel better than I ever expected to feel again. My digestion seems to be perfect now, and I never felt better or stronger in my life. My husband says I am the picture of health and he is just as enthusiastic about Tanlac as I am."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Advertisement.

ARLINGTON ALSO IS SIGNING NEW PLAYERS

Manager Expects to Put Out Winner And Overcome Weak Spots Evidenced in Last Game

TO PLAY TRAVELERS SUNDAY

The Arlington Athletic Club's baseball team has undergone a change since last Sunday when they were defeated 16 to 2 by the fast Hercules Club. Manager Hutchinson reports the signing of three new men and several of the others will be shifted. The team has a stiff schedule ahead with the Indiana Travelers the attraction at Arlington Sunday; Shirley at Shirley, May 14; Indianapolis Southern Grays, at Arlington, May 21; Greenfield at Greenfield, May 28; and Selmers at Arlington, June 4.

The outlook is bright for the team and they expect to give the fans some high class ball this season. If booking fast teams is any inducement to come and see the game, all the surrounding neighborhood should be out, the manager says.

Work on the grounds is progressing favorably and before long it will be a good athletic field. Material is being obtained for an additional set of bleachers.

The Score Board

Yesterday's heroes—Walker, Perkins and Miller hit home runs in succession in the fourth inning, helping the Athletics beat the Senators, 11 to 2. Walker also hit one in the first.

The Yanks mauled two Red Sox pitchers and won, 12 to 6, going back into a tie for first place.

Backing Coveleskie with fine support, the Indians came back to life and plastered the White Sox 10 to 6.

Elmke held the Browns to five hits while the Tigers hit Shocker in the pinches and won 3 to 1, pulling the Browns down into a tie for first place.

Two spectacular catches by Harper featured the fine support the Reds gave Couch in downing the Pirates 9 to 2.

The Giants continued their sweep onward by taking their fifth straight game from the Braves, 6 to 3.

JIM O'CONNELL SAYS NOTORIETY OF SALE WON'T INJURE PLAYING

At the Right, Jimmy O'Connell, the $75,000 Beauty, and With Him Willie Kamm, Who Figures to Bring Even More Cash Into the San Francisco Club Owners' Safe When He Is Sold This Year.

Notoriety of the purchase of Jimmy O'Connell for $75,000 by the New York Giants from the San Francisco Seals has a different psychological effect on various players. Every one believes that the attention attracted to O'Connell through the sale will mean considerable "razzing" from the bleachers. O'Connell himself says he expects it, "but it won't bother me." On the other hand, Willie Kamm, another brilliant star of the San Francisco team, who is considered next in line to follow O'Connell to the majors at a big purchase price, says he would not like to be in O'Connell's shoes and that such notoriety would bother old man Kamm's son.

"Yes, I guess the fans will kid me about being a $75,000 beauty," said O'Connell, "but that won't bother me. I know I'm no beauty and I haven't $75,000; so what's the use? Naturally I would rather have them pulling for me—it sort of helps a fellow—yet I know razzing is a part of the baseball profession, and when a fellow gets a certain amount of it, then he does not pay any more attention to it. I got my share after the Chicago Cubs offered $10,000 for me before I had played a game in the Coast league, and for a while it bothered me."

Kamm is Different. On the other hand, Kamm shows an altogether different feeling. He says: "I think O'Connell is a marked player and will be for some time to come. Personally I would not like to be in his place. The fans will undoubtedly expect too much from him and if he makes a boot or fails to come through in a pinch, they surely will give him a good time. It is all very well to say that their abuse does not bother you, but it does all the same. I hope when I am sold that it will be for an ordinary sum, lacking in the national notoriety that O'Connell received. It may be all right for the 'gate' but that does not help a player's personal feelings in the matter. I know when a man climbs the ladder and into fame he is more or less a public character, but I don't want to climb any $75,000 ladder."

By Youth of Romantic and Marriageable Age Thinks Uncle Sam Should Sit on Elopements

By LAURENCE BENEDICT.
 (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 3—Uncle Sam as the daddy of all the young people of romantic and marriageable age, will legislatively sit on elopements if Representative George P. Codd, of Michigan, has his way. Codd, former mayor of Detroit and for more than ten years a circuit court judge in Michigan, has a resolution before the House judiciary committee which would give congress the right through a constitutional amendment to establish uniform laws on marriage and divorce. If he can get the resolution through congress and secure ratification by two thirds of the states, Codd proposes to follow that up with a bill which would require lovers to wait for a week or ten days after obtaining a license before they could wed.

Besides allowing the parents of impulsive girls and boys a chance for peaceful sleep in the spring and summer, Codd's bill, he contends, would cut down the number of ill suited matches which wind up in the divorce courts.

"Romantic marriages" are called "hasty marriages" by Codd who says that his experience on the bench has taught him that they are the cause for the majority of divorces.

Codd wants to put a strict legal ban on "midnight sentimentality." To help obtain this his bill would carry a provision that only registered ministers, priests and rabbis could perform a wedding ceremony.

HENRY COUNTY MAN WINS

Defeats J. A. D. Wagoner in Democratic Race for Representative

Strode Hays, Henry county democratic candidate for joint representative, won out in the dual race with John A. D. Wagoner of Rush county, by a plurality of 377 votes, carrying Henry county by 1039 votes which swung his nomination. Hays received 521 votes in Rush county, which combined with the Henry county vote gave him a total of 1421, while on the other hand Wagoner received 1183 votes in this county and 328 in Henry, which gave him a total of 1798, making the difference between the two at 377, which fell to the Henry county candidate.

It was not known until a few days before the election that Mr. Wagoner would be opposed by a candidate from Henry county.

Trial by Ordeal.

Trial by ordeal still exists in some parts of Japan. If a theft takes place in a household, all the servants are required to write a certain word with the same brush. The conscience is supposed to betray its workings in the way of the ideographs written. Tracing an ideograph involves such an effort of muscular directness and undivided attention that this device often leads to the discovery of the guilty party. The test is, at all events, more humane than the ordeal of boiling water, to which accused persons were formerly submitted in Japan.

"Fifty-four Forty, or Fight." "Fifty-four Forty, or Fight," was a cry adopted during the northwestern boundary discussion by those who disapproved of yielding our claims to the territory short of 54 degrees 40 minutes of latitude between the Rocky mountains and the Pacific ocean.

Franklin, Ind., May 3—John E. Shipp, 62, walked out into the court house yard here today and fell dead when returns from the democratic primary showed he had run third in the race for sheriff nomination.

FOUR CIVIL SUITS ARE FILED TODAY

John Gibson Asks $350 Damages From Big Four and J. A. Remington Sues Arlington Grocer

JURY CALLED FOR THURSDAY

Four civil suits were placed on file today in the circuit court, and not much business was being transacted. The jury has been called for service Thursday, when the suit of the State against Edgar Archey, Carthage negro, will come up for trial. He is charged with assault and battery with intent to kill, and with highway robbery, and the state will elect one of the charges to be tried in the morning.

John Gibson is plaintiff in a suit against the Pennsylvania railroad, in which he demands $350 damages for a Ford Sedan, which he alleges was struck by an engine at the First street crossing in this city on May 6, 1921. The defendant is charged with being negligent in switching, and the engine was backing, without sounding any warning of its approach, when it struck and damaged his machine.

Russell B. Kirkpatrick has filed suit against Oscar Reppert, the complaint being on an account demanding $50. Jacob A. Parrish has filed suit on a court judgment against James A. Kirkpatrick demanding $180. James A. Remington, wholesale dealer in cigars and candy, has filed suit on account and for the appointment of a receiver for Odie C. Hinton, a merchant at Arlington, alleging that his business is being mismanaged. His account is placed at $180.

ELLIOTT APPARENTLY IS A SURE WINNER

Republican Congressman Believed to be Nominated on Basis of Incomplete Returns Today

DEMOCRATIC RACE UNCERTAIN

Richard N. Elliott, republican candidate for the nomination for representative in congress from the Sixth district, looked like a sure winner this afternoon on the basis of reports from several of the counties in this district, but nothing definite could be obtained on the democratic race in which there were three candidates. Elliott, the present congressman from this district, had three opponents, but in Rush county he had a plurality of 1647 and carried Fayette county, his home by a big plurality.

The vote in four counties was as follows: Rush, Elliott 2236, Williams 533, Test 589, McConaha 165; Henry, Elliott 2490, McConaha 230, Test 3,008; Williams 451; Fayette, Elliott 2198, McConaha 232, Test 351, Williams 248; Wayne, 33 out of 36, precincts, Elliott 2533, McConaha 2059, Test 936, Williams 1599.

Fayette county today also reported 803 votes for James A. Clifton, democratic candidate for congress; Eikman 132; Reese 56.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE IN TREASURY BUILDING

Fourth Strange Fire to Break Out in Washington Recently Causes Loss of $100,000

FLAMES SHOOT 40 FEET HIGH

Washington, May 3.—The United States treasury—world's greatest money storehouse—was attacked by fire of mysterious origin early today.

A portion of the roof was destroyed. Damage was estimated at $100,000. This is the fourth strange fire to break out in Washington recently.

Flames forty feet high shot from the roof of the treasury.

An explosion occurred in a room where chemicals used in making treasury blue prints are stored. It was denied that chemicals used in testing boot leg liquor blew up.

The flickering glare aroused President Harding, who watched the blaze from a White House window as sparks showered into the ground of the executive mansion—just across the street from the treasury—and a cordon of marines held back the crowd.

NEWS DEFEAT

SEEMS CERTAIN

When returns from New's stronghold in heavy voting precincts of Marion county failed to cut down Beveridge's lead of more than 13,000, John Walker, county manager for Beveridge, claimed the county by a plurality of 2,000 votes. This development was significant in light of the fact that the New forces pinned great hopes to returns from Marion county. One negro precinct which had been expected to go solidly for New, split the vote about evenly.

Former Governor Samuel M. Ralston was victorious in the democratic senatorial race. Count of the democratic vote was not started in some of the outlying counties at noon. Every precinct reporting added to Ralston's plurality.

Indications were that the twelve republican congressmen from Indiana seeking re-election would be chosen by their party as nominees. Returns in the democratic congressional races were also slow, but it was indicated John Tyndall would be chosen in the eighth district and Kathleen O'Keefe would be selected in the thirteenth district.

There was a feeling at New headquarters that Senator James E. Watson, Indiana colleague of New, had not done all he could have done to assure New's nomination. Watson's home, Rush county, gave Beveridge a plurality of 623.

Beveridge supporters claimed to have carried the counties of Delaware, Davis, Morgan, Owen, Clark, Dubois, Harrison, Lawrence, Scott, Bartholomew, Decatur, Jennings, Johnson, Ohio, Vigo, Shelby, Madison, Randolph, Carroll, Hamilton, Tipton, Porter, Blackford and Miami.

A majority of the counties are in the agricultural sections and bore out Beveridge's predictions he would swing the farmer votes because they were dissatisfied with conditions in the government.

New sought re-election on the basis of Harding's administration.

record and the final result will show how Indiana regarded the president's policy, it is advocated.

One of the surprising things in both the republican and democratic primary was the support received by candidates who declared themselves on a "wet" platform. None was elected to any office of importance, but Dr. Jesse A. Sanders, of Garrett who sought the democratic senatorial nomination was the proverbial dark horse. He and Sims played back and forth for second place.

The democratic vote apparently was much stronger than it has been in the recent primaries, which indicates a stiff battle in the general elections next November. More democratic ballots were rushed through the printing presses in many parts of the state to meet an unexpected demand.

Miss Esther Kathleen O'Keefe, the first woman to run for office in the thirteenth congressional district, was leading the democratic field for congress.

Republican state headquarters claimed its slate of "regular" candidates for congressional nomination would be selected. Two of the present republican delegation from Indiana were on the slate along with a new candidate, Samuel Lambdin, in the third district.

According to the information here, the republican nominees for congress will be as follows: First, O. Ray Lohring of Evansville; Second, Oscar Bland of Linton; Third, Samuel Lambdin of English; Fourth, John Benham of Benham; Fifth, Everett Sanders of Terre Haute; Sixth, Richard N. Elliott of Connersville; Seventh, Merrill Moores of Indianapolis; Eighth, Albert Vestal of Anderson; Ninth, Fred S. Parnell of Attica; Tenth, Will R. Wood of Lafayette; Eleventh, Milton Krauss of Peru; Twelfth, Louis Fairfield of Angola; and Thirteenth, Andrew J. Hickey of Laporte.

Joseph Turk, who stood on a "wet" platform for the seventh district nomination, apparently had succeeded.

MAKES APPEAL FOR CLOTHES

Salvation Army Has More Calls For Garments Than They Can Fill

The Salvation Army is in need of clothing, and an appeal is being sent out over the city, asking that people who have wearing apparel call telephone 2259, the headquarters. The clothing is being gathered for the purpose of supplying the needy, and it is not to be sold. The Salvation Army also requested that garments which were too badly worn would not be of any use, because the people who need them cannot go to the expense of repairing and altering them, and only clothing which is yet serviceable is wanted.

Mrs. Ellis, in charge of the local corps stated that they were receiving calls for clothing every day, but the supply had been exhausted.

ALVA HAROLD DIED TODAY

Former Resident Expires of Kidney Trouble at Home in Kokomo

Word was received here this morning of the death of Alva Harold, aged about 45 years, which occurred this morning at 3 o'clock at the late residence in Kokomo, Ind. Mr. Harold was well known in this city having moved from his farm west of the city, to Kokomo, two years ago. The deceased had been suffering from kidney trouble for several weeks, the affliction having caused his death.

The widow, one son, Aaron and a daughter Hazel, survive. The funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the late residence and burial will take place in Kokomo.

TO ABOLISH ALL OUTSIDE TOILETS

abide by the ordinance. The penalty is a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100, and each day which is overrun after notice has been given, constitutes a separate offense.

The law briefly sets out that animal manure must be securely protected from flies; that filthy or littered cellars, houses, lots, yards, etc., must be kept clean; vaults, pits, and other places which breed flies must be protected; garbage must be contained in metal receptacles, and not wooden buckets; trash, litter and other accumulations which might cause a fire hazard, must be abolished; stable and barns which house animals, must be cleaned, and disinfected at least every 30 days in the months of April, May, June, July, August and September, and manure must be placed in water tight, fly tight containers.

The provision calling for the abolishing of outside toilets, sets out that all property which is in reasonable distance of a sewer connection, must be connected with a flush toilet, and outside vaults emptied before being filled in with dirt.

A section of the ordinance sets out that in places where sewer connections are impossible, outside toilets can be maintained, provided they meet with the required stipulations of being air tight fly tight, sanitary and free from odor, and regularly cleaned.

The law defines the above sections as applying to any dwelling, store, shop, factory, hotel, restaurant or any building where people live or work, and the period of six months is given for the improvements to be made.

Dr. R. O. Kennedy, city health officer, was highly responsible for the new ordinance, and the power of enforcing every detail of the law is vested in him, who has legal power to enforce it. Property owners who refuse to connect with the sewer are not only liable to arrest, but the officer may order the work done, and the costs assessed against the property on the tax duplicate.

The Reynolds Manufacturing Company was granted permission to repair the street for a half block on West Ninth, near their factory, by putting on a new rock surface, and building new gutters and curb, with proper drainage.

Bryan Carr was hired by the councilmen as a member of the fire department, making the sixth man on the department. This will give each vehicle two men, with two for the chemical truck, two for the horse drawn hose wagon, and two for the motor pumper.

An order was placed last night with the Eureka Fire hose company for 400 feet of new hose, at the cost of $1.15 a foot, and this will give the department about 3,000 feet of first class hose with their apparatus.

The council also decided to trade in the Ford automobile now used by the Water and Light plant, for a new one, and the matter of trading in two lots north of the plant with R. L. Tompkins was left in the hands of the committee with power to act.

The plant is in need of more room, and a trade can be made with Mr. Tompkins to receive electric current instead of cash for the two lots which adjoin the plant on the north side of the street, and upon which are located two dwelling houses.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 3.—Nomination of Albert J. Beveridge as the republican senatorial candidate over Senator Harry S. New was conceded at three o'clock this afternoon by Fred I. King, state manager for the senator.

"It appears certain Mr. Beveridge has been nominated," King said. "Returns from Lake county gave him a much larger majority than we anticipated and it seems sufficient to assure his nomination."

Returns from 2,596 precincts gave Beveridge a lead of 16,445 over New. The vote stood Beveridge, 145,324; New, 128,872.

Washington, May 3.—"It was the woman who did it."

This was the statement, summing up the result of the Indiana senatorial primary, which was given the United Press this afternoon by Senator James E. Watson, Senator New's colleague. At that hour partial returns showed New considerably behind Albert J. Beveridge for the republican nomination.

The republican nominee for assessor in Rushville township was decided by lot today, George T. Aultman, the incumbent winning over William H. Hardwick, his opponent, when straws were drawn to settle the controversy.

The unofficial count Tuesday night showed Aultman and Hardwick tied with 587 votes each.

The inspectors of the ten voting precincts in Rushville township, who constituted the canvassing board, met this morning in the office of James V. Young, township trustee, canvassed the vote and found that each had received 587 votes.

The law provides that in ties of this character, the nominee shall be determined by lot, and the canvassers elected to resort to the old-time method of "drawing straws." It was agreed before hand that Trustee Young should select two straws of different lengths and that his father, George W. Young, should draw one. If he pulled out the long straw, Mr. Aultman was to be declared the winner, and if the short straw were

Mays Man Gets Majority of 520 in
Rush and Henry Counties

Charles M. Trowbridge of Mays was an easy winner over Fred A. Bills of Washington township in the race for the republican nomination for joint senator from Rush and Henry counties, in the primary election Tuesday. Mr. Trowbridge rolled up a majority of 1005 in this county, which more than offset the majority of 485 which Henry county gave Bills.

Trowbridge's official majority was 520. He received 2239 votes in Henry county and 1202 in this county, making his total 3926.

County Primary Highlights
Jesse Winkler defeated S. H. Young, incumbent, for the republican nomination for commissioner in the middle district by 19 votes.

Earl F. Priest was renominated for county assessor by the republicans with a majority of 1430.

Prosecutor Albert C. Stevens lost to John F. Joyce for prosecutor on the republican ticket by six votes.

William H. Hardwick and George T. Aultman, incumbent tied in the race for Rushville township assessor on the republican ticket with 587 votes each.

Close and furious races featured township contests, one candidate winning by four votes and another by six.

Beveridge's majority over New was 623.

Ralston had little opposition for senator among the democrats, winning a plurality of 1413.

Fifty percent of the number of voters participating in the general election in 1920, which was a record year, went to the polls in the Rush county primary election, Tuesday, which was featured by some large pluralities and close races.

The total vote cast for the candidates for senator on both tickets Tuesday was 5590, which was a surprise to political observers, who estimated yesterday that not more than one-third of the normal vote would be registered.

The heavy vote was largely confined to the out townships where candidates engaged in some very hot races for trustee, assessor and ad-

A RACE IN EVERY TOWNSHIP

W. H. Hardwick and Geo. T. Aultman Tie For Assessor of Rushville
Township With 587 Votes Each

The township contests provided most of the fireworks in the primary election Tuesday. There was not a township which did not have a contest for either trustee, assessor or the advisory board on one or both of the tickets.

Anderson and Ripley townships both participated in spectacular contests for trustee on the republican side and Posey township republicans and democrats each had a close race for trustee and assessor. This resulted in large votes in many townships.

The only contest in Rushville township resulted in a tie, George T. Aultman and William H. Hardwick, republican candidates for assessor, each polling 587 votes.

The vote by precincts was as follows:

Precinct	Hardwick	Aultman
1	86	66
2	105	108
3	84	69
4	41	48

10	33	50

The democrats of the second precinct of Noble township staged the only scrap for precinct committee man, George U. Spillman defeating Clifton Stamm by 12, the vote by 28 to 16.

The democrats of Walker township also put on the only fight for township advisory board. There were five candidates, with three to be elected. The winners were Benjamin F. Purcell, 205; Fred Gross, 193; and William Mitchell, 183. The two low men were Hiram R. Brown, 173, and Albert F. Gahmer, 166.

The republicans of Noble township nominated Charley C. Carney

Three Inspectors Delay County Election Board

As is generally the rule in a county election, precinct inspectors delayed the work of the county board of election commissioners in canvassing the vote by failing to bring the returns to the clerk's office here immediately after the count was completed, as provided by law.

Three inspectors were the offenders this time and they kept the board up all night. Messengers were sent after Ed Farthing, inspector in Richland township, who did not show up until shortly before six o'clock this morning.

Messengers also had to be sent after Ad Richey, inspector in precinct No. 1 of Orange township, and Roy Small, inspector in No. 2 of Posey township, had to be called on the telephone about four o'clock.

SCHOOL CENSUS IN CITY SHOWS A GAIN

Count Conducted by Mrs. Allie Aldridge Reveals 1273 Persons
of School Age

INCREASE OF 24 OVER 1921

There Are 632 Boys and 621 Girls,
and 52 Are Colored—Compared
With 48 Last Year

The city school census has been completed and Mrs. Allie Aldridge, who canvassed the city for the school board, reports a gain of 24 in the census since last year, with a total of 1273 persons of school age now, as compared with 1249 last year.

The school census as required by law, included all persons between the ages of 6 and 21, regardless of whether or not they attend school, as it is upon the number of school age people that the county is reimbursed from the state in taxes paid.

Mrs. Aldridge reports some very interesting facts in her report of Rushville city in that there are more boys of that age than girls, with 632 boys and 621 girls, and that the colored children number 52, as compared with 48 last year, with 28 girls and 24 boys.

There are 322 children between the ages of 14 and 16 inclusive, her report states, as this information is asked by the state. The report also shows that there are 103 children at the age of six, with some of them now in school, and nearing their seventh birthday.

The city is divided into two groups upon which the census is taken. The 13th Congressional township is that portion of the city south of Fifth street, and the 14th congressional township lies north of Fifth street.

There are 739 children in the north township, and 508 in the south township, and 26 children who are inmates of state institutions or state homes, but whose parents reside within the city, making the total of 1273 of school age.

Mrs. Aldridge stated that she worked untiringly since April 10, when the work began, and she is very much elated over the fact that the school census shows a gain.

MRS. OLIVE RIGGS DIES EARLY TODAY

Former Rushville Music Teacher and
Organist Expires at Fayette
Memorial Hospital

FUNERAL HERE ON FRIDAY

Mrs. Claude Riggs of Connersville, age thirty-three years, formerly Miss Olive Buell of this city, died at the Fayette Memorial hospital this morning at 7:15 o'clock. She was operated on at the hospital last Saturday evening for a poisonous infection of the face, which was not thought at first to be serious, but later caused her condition to be critical.

Mrs. Riggs was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Buell, living a short distance east of Rushville, and was an accomplished musician. She was a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and the Dunning School of Music at Chicago. Mrs. Riggs was associated with Miss Jessie Kitchen here as a teacher of piano and was organist at the First Presbyterian church for a few years previous to her marriage, which occurred eight months ago.

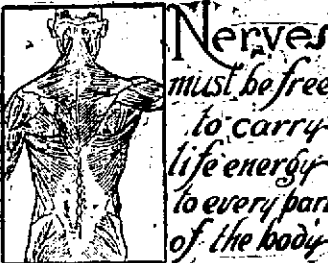

Besides her husband and parents, the deceased is survived by one sister, Mrs. Neff Ashworth of Connersville; one brother, Scott Buell of this city; a half brother, Don C. Buell of Gings, and a half sister, Mrs. Fred Neutenhelzer.

Brief services will be held at the late residence in Connersville Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and the funeral will take place at the First Presbyterian church here at 3:30 the same afternoon, with burial in East Hill cemetery.

TRUCK GROWERS KEEP FEW COWS

Small Herds of Animals Being Maintained for Purpose of Obtaining Fertilizer.

SURPLUS MATERIAL UTILIZED

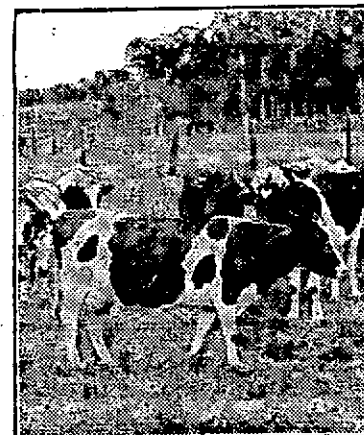

Practice of Keeping Live Stock Is to Be Strongly Recommended in Sections Where It Can Be Done Profitably.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Truck growers and greenhouse men in the Eastern states are finding it increasingly difficult to secure a supply of stable manure, and some growers have adopted the practice of keeping a small herd of cows or other stock for the purpose of supplying manure, and as a means of utilizing surplus or waste material. The problem of maintaining soil fertility under present conditions was discussed at the recent meeting of the Vegetable Growers' Association of America, at Albany, N. Y., and it was the opinion of the vegetable growers and state federal workers present that the practice of keeping live stock is to be strongly recommended in sections where this can be done profitably.

Scarcity of Plant Food.
The head of the vegetable garden department of the Massachusetts Agricultural college reported that: "A study of the census shows that the decrease in horses in Massachusetts from 1910 to 1920 is such that 13,000 fewer acres can now be furnished with 20 tons of stable manure per acre than in 1910. To offset this loss in plant food, which was formerly obtained from stable manure, will require the expenditure of between $1,200,000 and $1,400,000. Even then we lack that all-important effect of the inoculated organic matter contained in manure and for which no equally efficient substitute has been found."

While this disregards the cost of the manure formerly used to supply the plant food, it is probable that it was much less than the cost of the fertilizer now purchased. This problem is not confined to any one state, but with a few local exceptions is being felt throughout the territory in which vegetable crops are grown for the markets.

At the Lexington (Mass.) field station, which is conducted under the direction of the State College of Agriculture as an experiment station, what are termed "manure economy investigations" are being conducted. In these tests the use of stable manure in moderate quantities is being supplemented by commercial fertilizers, soil-building crops, crop rotations and other means of maintaining soil fertility.

Waste Is Utilized.
Growers of canning crops such as peas and sweet corn have for years past followed the practice of utilizing the vines, fodder and other waste in the form of silage for the feeding of sheep, beef cattle, or dairy cows, this practice supplying them with large quantities of manure. Renewed attention is now being directed to this practice, and in sections where the European corn borer has made its appearance many growers have found it desirable to erect silos for the utilization of the surplus material, feeding this to their stock, thereby securing manure for their crops, and also largely controlling the corn borer. The United States Department of Agriculture strongly recommends these practices wherever conditions will warrant the keeping of live stock.

The race for township assessor in Rushville township also brought out a large republican vote, which amounted to 1174 and was approximately one-half of the vote cast for Harding in Rushville township in 1920. That vote was 2321. The democratic vote in Rushville township was light, however, due to the absence, it is believed, of any township contest.

Former Senator Beveridge carried the county over Senator New with a majority of 623 and Congressman Elliott walked away from the field of four candidates for congress on the republican ticket with a plurality of 1647, but the races between Samuel H. Young and Jesse Winkler for commissioner of the middle district and John F. Joyce and Albert C. Stevens for prosecutor, both on the republican ticket, provided the real thrills.

Mr. Joyce finally triumphed over the present prosecutor by six votes and Mr. Winkler defeated Mr. Young, who is the present commissioner, by nineteen votes, but at one time unofficial complete returns gave Mr. Stevens the nomination by a few votes and made it appear that Mr. Young had been defeated by one vote.

Earl F. Priest, county assessor, proved to be the champion runner on the county tickets, defeating Henry W. Schrader for the nomination on the republican ticket by 1430 votes.

Harry (Hal) Gosnell, commissioner from the southern district, was renominated over Charles Owen on the republican ticket by a majority of 137 and Frank Lawrence of Arlington won over Joseph A. Stevens of this city in the republican race for county treasurer, rolling up a majority of 337.

The democrats of the county had a decided preference for Samuel M. Ralston in the senatorial race, giving him a plurality of 1413. The highest vote for any other of the four candidates was 93. James A. Clifton, mayor of Connersville, carried the county in the democratic race for congress, winning a plurality of 22. John A. D. Wagoner of Walker township carried the county by 662 over his Henry county opponent, Strode Hays, in the race for the democratic nomination for joint representative. Leonidas M. Coons, Walker township defeated Robert

Irvine of Arlington for the democratic nomination for sheriff, rolling up a majority of 304.

Discounting the Count

A COUNT used to be a man in charge of a count of 500 persons to whom he was a sort of overlord. This is not true today because of altered political conditions. We still have Counts, but the Count business has changed somewhat.

Business, of all kinds, has undergone something of a revolution. It was not so many years ago that pack peddlers were the sole distributors and transporters of many of the household articles of the day. Their legs set the limits for most distribution problems in those days.

Modern transportation, progressive sales methods—and advertising—have broken the shackles of time. They make a speedy job of what used to take years. Through advertising many an article has been introduced simultaneously in stores all over the country.

Advertising today is the method used by business to tell you why you should have certain goods and how to identify those goods. The advertisements you find here are a truthful catalog of needed merchandise.

Articles of all kinds and for all purposes are presented in a pleasant way through the medium of type and picture. The outstanding requirements of every member of the family are met by offers of good merchandise of proved value.

Use the advertisements for guidance and you will be a constant gainer.

TWO SUITS GO BY DEFAULT

Judgment Given Two Defendants in Justice Stech's Court

Three suits were tried this morning in Justice Stech's court, two by default and one in which judgment was assessed. The suit of the Arlington Telephone company against Charley Stout, and a suit by the same plaintiff against Thomas Stout was scheduled for trial, and the two defendants defaulted, with judgment being taken against the first for $16.00 and against the last for the amount of $17.77. Each were suits on accounts.

In the suit against John M. Brown, filed by Frank Wilson and Company, another suit on an account, the defendant acknowledged the account, and judgment amounting to $63.43 was rendered.

Chicago —Mrs. John Phelan informed her husband she wouldn't return home if he continued to keep twenty dogs around the house. John chose the dogs.

Bowling Is Old Diversion.
Bowling once was forbidden by law. The game was originally nine-pins, and was called "cloche," the definition being given as: "Cloche, the game at nine-pins; forbidden by statute, anno 17 Edw. IV." The prohibition was afterward withdrawn and the game became very popular. It was once also a popular gambling game in the United States and in some states was prohibited by law. The law was evaded by adding another pin and calling it ten-pins.

"The Old Nest" Comes Today.

When "The Old Nest" comes to the New Princess theatre today, the people of Rush county will have a chance to see a picture that has been lauded by critics and reviewers as the most satisfying all-American picture that has yet been produced. The theme, that of a mother who sees her six children leave her, one by one, is common to American families. All the poignancy of feeling, that these leave-takings arouse in real life have been caught on the screen. Rupert Hughes is the author of this unusual tale of mother love. He has sought to present a cross-section of a universal theme as applied to an American family. All the joys and sorrows connected with raising a family have been dramatized. Each of the children grow to manhood and womanhood with his own individual interests, then leaves the old nest to follow the call of his desires. Only their mother is left in her loneliness and her memories. But, as in every American family, the young remember the old nest and return to it.

The picture was produced by Goldwyn and was directed by Reginald Barker. Mary Alden plays the old mother, and her performance has been said to be a masterpiece of screen acting.

"Western Speed," Mystic.

Charles Jones, the popular William Fox star, comes to the Mystic theatre, today in "Western Speed," a story by the famous magazine writer, William Patterson White.

From the opening flash to the closing scene Jones ranges romantically through a series of fist fights, gun battles and daring rides which net him the love of the woman who earlier in the story held him in utter hatred. The picture affords the rough and rugged hero ample opportunity to display the talents which have made him so beloved by motion picture enthusiasts the world over.

"Western Speed" is said to be packed with the stirring action of the plains, showing Jones at his best. It's described as a story with more speed than a tornado and more power than an earthquake; one that will send a thrill through the spines of even the most sophisticated. Eileen Percy is seen as the heroine.

Heavy Vote a Surprise

The vote in the primary election in Rush county Tuesday was much heavier than anticipated by party leaders and candidates and was contrary to the indications Tuesday.

The vote in the rural districts, however, was largely responsible for the vote being heavier than anticipated, and this accounted for by the fact that every township had a local contest for trustee, assessor or township advisory, on one or the other of the tickets.

Politicians and political observers generally agree that the races for offices where the candidates are well known by the voters, are required to get the voters to the polls.

This is the only real value of the primary. It is a good system for settling local nominations, but when candidates for congress, especially are involved, or senator in many instances, the primary is a useless waste of effort.

It is certain that only a very small percent of the voters were acquainted with the qualifications of any of the candidates for congress in this district. The only one of the seven on both tickets generally known is Richard N. Elliott, present congressman, by reason of his having served in public office. The average voter knew nothing of the other candidates and could not vote intelligently.

This was very well demonstrated in the democratic race for the United States senatorial nomination. Charles Franklin Howard polled seventy-two votes in this county and it is doubtful if any one of the seventy-two who voted for him can tell anything about Howard, where he lives, what his occupation is or what his qualifications for the office are. It is very likely that he received these votes because his name appeared at the head of the ticket on some ballots due to the names of candidates being rotated.

The fact of the matter is that he is a political accident. He is a postcard vendor at Windfall, Ind., according to local democrats, who slipped in and got the nomination for congress four years ago. He was defeated and decided to try his luck on the senatorial job.

The Woman of Poise

Poise a rarity, is now to be observed and admired upon every hand, indeed, no other women can flourish in the midst of this modern, complicated life. In the home, in business, in social life, the woman who is serene and confident while the nervous, flustered individual wastes her talents and gets nowhere. Of course, poise is dependent mainly upon sound health and steady nerves. If you feel that you are being kept back in this way, why not turn to that great woman's remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which was manufactured from a thorough understanding of the nervous system of women? (Advertisement).

In Richland township the republicans gave Fred Goddard a vote of 100 as against 96 for George F. Keisling, Goddard being nominated by four votes. The democrats nominated Edd Moore, giving him 47 votes to 34 for Charles E. Kincaid.

William E. Scott was nominated as democratic candidate for assessor by a majority of 37. He received 60 votes and Guy M. Humphrey got 23. William B. Webster won out over James H. Robertson in the race for trustee on the democratic ticket in Walker township by six votes. He received 57 votes in the first precinct and 122 in the second, a total of 179 and his opponent polled 151 in the first and 22 in the second, making his total 173.

Jackson township democrats nominated Henry W. Beckner for trustee, giving him 37 votes as against 21 for Jesse E. Gray.

Charles W. Griffin was named for trustee on the democratic ticket in Center, winning over Homer W. Alenghly with 104 votes—76 in the first precinct and 33 in the third. Abernathy's vote was 24 in the first and 8 in the second, a total of 32.

Washington township democrats picked Edson L. Aiken, former county commissioner, as their candidate for trustee, giving him 172 votes and his opponent, Robert K. Sharp, 115. Aiken polled 48 in the first precinct and 124 in the second. Sharp's vote was 63 in the first and 52 in the second.

A three-cornered race for assessor was staged by the democrats, Francis M. Gordon emerging a victor with a plurality of 157. The vote:

	Pre. 1	Pre. 2	Total
F. M. Gordon	93	117	210
Ed L. Hood	11	42	53
Robt. Laughlin	7	23	30

Harry S. McMillin defeated John S. Mapes, the incumbent, for the republican nomination for trustee in Union, winning by a plurality of 74. He polled 135 votes in his own, the north precinct, and 61 in the Glenwood precinct, a total of 196. Mapes was given 32 in the Gings precinct and 90 in the Glenwood precinct, his home.

George W. Hardesty defeated Clarence L. Tevis for the democratic nomination for trustee in Orange township with a vote of 208, of which 121 came from the first precinct and 87 from the second. Tevis polled 17 in the first and 53 in the second. Hardesty's majority was 138.

Shirley E. Miller won the democratic nomination for assessor in the same township by a plurality of 55. The vote:

	Pre. 1	Pre. 2	Total
S. E. Miller	79	49	128
Fred Barlow	6	46	52
J. W. Bennett	46	27	73

MRS. HAWKINS REPORTS A GAIN OF 22 POUNDS

Health is so Perfect Since Taking Tanlac It is Hard to Realize She is Same Person, Declares The Little Indianapolis Woman

"It is hard for me to realize that I am the same person I was a short time ago. My health is perfect now and I have gained twenty-two pounds in weight in a remarkably short time," said Mrs. H. F. Hawkins, 621 East 25th St., Indianapolis, Ind.

"I had been in ill health for years and was growing worse all the time. It is just beyond my power to describe the tortures I used to suffer from indigestion. To make bad matters worse, last winter I had an attack of the flu which left me with so little vitality and so weak I never expected to know a well day again.

"Tanlac has made me feel better than I ever expected to feel again. My digestion seems to be perfect now, and I never felt better or stronger in my life. My husband says I am the picture of Health and he is just as enthusiastic about Tanlac as I am."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Advertisement.

ARLINGTON ALSO IS SIGNING NEW PLAYERS

Manager Expects to Put Out Winner And Overcome Weak Spots Evidenced in Last Game.

TO PLAY TRAVELERS SUNDAY

The Arlington Athletic Club's baseball team has undergone a change since last Sunday when they were defeated 16 to 2 by the fast Hercules Club. Manager Hutchinson reports the signing of three new men and several of the others will be shifted. The team has a stiff schedule ahead with the Indiana Travelers the attraction at Arlington Sunday: Shirley at Shirley, May 14; Indianapolis Southern Grays, at Arlington, May 21; Greenfield at Greenfield, May 28; and Selma at Selma, June 4.

The outlook is bright for the team and they expect to give the fans some high class ball this season. If booking fast teams is any inducement to come and see the game, all the surrounding neighborhood should be out, the manager says.

Work on the grounds is progressing favorably and before long it will be a good athletic field. Material is being obtained for an additional set of bleachers.

The Score Board

Yesterday's heroes—Walker, Perkins and Miller hit home runs in succession in the fourth inning, helping the Athletics beat the Senators, 11 to 2. Walker also hit one in the first.

The Yanks mauled two Red Sox pitchers and won, 12 to 6, going back into a tie for first place.

Backing Coveleskie with fine support, the Indians came back to life and plastered the White Sox 10 to 6.

Elnuke held the Browns to five hits while the Tigers hit Shocker in the pinches and won 3 to 1, pulling the Browns down into a tie for first place.

Two spectacular catches by Harper featured the fine support the Reds gave Conch in downing the Pirates 9 to 2.

The Giants continued their sweep onward by taking their fifth straight game from the Braves, 6 to 3.

JIM O'CONNELL SAYS NOTORIETY OF SALE WON'T INJURE PLAYING

At the Right, Jimmy O'Connell, the $75,000 Beauty, and With Him Willie Kamm, Who Figures to Bring Even More Cash Into the San Francisco Club Owners' Safe When He Is Sold This Year.

Notoriety of the purchase of Jimmy O'Connell for $75,000 by the New York Giants from the San Francisco Seals has a different psychological effect on various players. Every one believes that the attention attracted to O'Connell through the sale will mean considerable "razzing" from the bleachers. O'Connell himself says he expects it, "but it won't bother me." On the other hand, Willie Kamm, another brilliant star of the San Francisco team, who is considered next in line to follow O'Connell to the majors at a big purchase price, says he would not like to be in O'Connell's shoes and that such notoriety would bother old man Kamm's son.

"Yes, I guess the fans will kid me about being a $75,000 beauty," said O'Connell, "but that won't bother me. I know I'm no beauty and I haven't $75,000; so what's the use? Naturally I would rather have them pulling for me—sort of helps a fellow—yet I know razzing is a part of the baseball profession, and when a fellow gets a certain amount of it, then he does not pay any more attention to it. I got my share after the Chicago Cubs offered $10,000 for me before I had played a game in the Coast league, and for a while it bothered me."

Kamm Is Different.

On the other hand, Kamm shows an altogether different feeling. He says: "I think O'Connell is a marked player and will be for some time to come. Personally I would not like to be in his place. The fans will undoubtedly expect too much from him and if he makes a boot or fails to come through in a pinch, they surely will give him a good time. It is all very well to say that their abuse does not bother you, but it does all the same. I hope when I am sold that it will be for an ordinary sum, lacking in the national notoriety that O'Connell received. It may be all right for the 'gate' but that does not help a player's personal feelings in the matter. I know when a man climbs the ladder and into fame he is more or less a public character, but I don't want to climb any $75,000 ladder."

By Youth of Romantic and Marriageable Age Thinks Uncle Sam Should Sit on Elopements

By LAURENCE BENEDICT.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 3—Uncle Sam as the daddy of all the young people of romantic and marriageable age, will legislatively sit on elopements if Representative George P. Codd, of Michigan, has his way.

Codd, former mayor of Detroit and for more than ten years a circuit court judge in Michigan, has a resolution before the House judiciary committee which would give congress the right through a constitutional amendment to establish uniform laws on marriage and divorce.

If he can get the resolution through congress and secure ratification by two thirds of the states, Codd proposes to follow that up with a bill which would require lovers to wait for a week or ten days after obtaining a license before they could wed.

Besides allowing the parents of impulsive girls and boys a chance for peaceful sleep in the spring and summer, Codd's bill, he contends, would cut down the number of ill suited matches which wind up in the divorce courts.

"Romantic marriages" are called "hasty marriages" by Codd who says that his experience on the bench has taught him that they are the cause for the majority of divorces.

Codd wants to put a strict legal ban on "midnight sentimentality." To help obtain this his bill would carry a provision that only registered ministers, priests and rabbis could perform a wedding ceremony.

HENRY COUNTY MAN WINS

Defeats J. A. D. Wagoner in Democratic Race for Representative

Strode Hays, Henry county democratic candidate for joint representative, won out in the dual race with John A. D. Wagoner of Rush county, by a plurality of 377 votes, carrying Henry county by 1039 votes which swung his nomination. Hays received 521 votes in Rush county, which combined with the Henry county vote gave him a total of 1421, while on the other hand Wagoner received 1183 votes in this county and 328 in Henry, which gave him a total of 1798, making the difference between the two at 377, which fell to the Henry county candidate.

It was not known until a few days before the election that Mr. Wagoner would be opposed by a candidate from Henry county.

Trial by Ordeal.

Trial by ordeal still exists in some parts of Japan. If a theft takes place in a household, all the servants are required to write a certain word with the same brush. The conscience is supposed to betray its workings in the way of the ideographs written. Tracing an ideograph involves such an effort of muscular directness and undivided attention that this device often leads to the discovery of the guilty party. The test is, at all events, more humane than the ordeal of boiling water, to which accused persons were formerly submitted in Japan.

John Gibson Asks $350 Damages From Big Four and J. A. Remington Sues Arlington Grocer

JURY CALLED FOR THURSDAY

Four civil suits were placed on file today in the circuit court, and not much business was being transacted. The jury has been called for service Thursday, when the suit of the State against Edgar Archey, Carthage negro, will come up for trial. He is charged with assault and battery with intent to kill, and with highway robbery, and the state will elect one of the charges to be tried in the morning.

John Gibson is plaintiff in a suit against the Pennsylvania railroad, in which he demands $350 damages for a Ford Sedan, which he alleges was struck by an engine at the First street crossing in this city on May 6, 1921. The defendant is charged with being negligent in switching, and the engine was backing, without sounding any warning of its approach, when it struck and damaged his machine.

Russell B. Kirkpatrick has filed suit against Oscar Reppert, the complaint being on an account demanding $50. Jacob A. Parrish has filed suit on a court judgment against James A. Kirkpatrick demanding $180. James A. Remington, wholesale dealer in cigars and candy, has filed suit on account and for the appointment of a receiver for Odie C. Hinton, a merchant at Arlington, alleging that his business is being mismanaged. His account is placed at $180.

ELLIOTT APPARENTLY IS A SURE WINNER

Republican Congressman Believed to be Nominated on Basis of Incomplete Returns Today

DEMOCRATIC RACE UNCERTAIN

Richard N. Elliott, republican candidate for the nomination for representative in congress from the Sixth district, looked like a sure winner this afternoon on the basis of reports from several of the counties in this district, but nothing definite could be obtained on the democratic race in which there were three candidates. Elliott, the present congressman from this district, had three opponents, but in Rush county he had a plurality of 1647 and carried Fayette county, his home by a big plurality.

The vote in four counties was as follows: Rush, Elliott 2236, Williams 533, Test 589, McConaha 165; Henry, Elliott 2490, McConaha 230, Test 3,008, Williams 451; Fayette, Elliott 2198, McConaha 232, Test 351, Williams 248; Wayne, 33 out of 36 precincts, Elliott 2533, McConaha 2059, Test 936, Williams 1599.

Fayette county today also reported 803 votes for James A. Clifton, democratic candidate for congress; Eikman 132; Reese 56.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE IN TREASURY BUILDING

Fourth Strange Fire to Break Out in Washington Recently Causes Loss of $100,000

FLAMES SHOOT 40 FEET HIGH

Washington, May 3.—The United States treasury—world's greatest money storehouse—was attacked by fire of mysterious origin early today.

A portion of the roof was destroyed. Damage was estimated at $100,000. This is the fourth strange fire to break out in Washington recently.

Flames forty feet high shot from the roof of the treasury.

An explosion occurred in a room where chemicals used in making treasury blue prints are stored. It was denied that chemicals used in testing boot leg liquor blew up.

The flickering glare aroused President Harding, who watched the blaze from a White House window as sparks showered into the ground of the executive mansion—just across the street from the treasury—and a cordon of marines held back the crowd.

NEW'S DEFEAT

of the precincts.

When returns from New's stronghold in heavy voting precincts of Marion county failed to cut down Beveridge's lead of more than 13,000, John Walker, county manager for Beveridge, claimed the county by a plurality of 2,000 votes. This development was significant in light of the fact that the New forces pinned great hopes too returns from Marion county. One negro precinct which had been expected to go solidly for New, split the vote about evenly.

Former Governor Samuel M. Ralston was victorious in the democratic senatorial race. Count of the democratic vote was not started in some of the outlying counties at noon. Every precinct reporting added to Ralston's plurality.

Indications were that the twelve republican congressmen from Indiana seeking re-election would be chosen by their party as nominees. Returns in the democratic congressional races were also slow, but it was indicated John Tyndall would be chosen in the eighth district and Kathleen O'Keefe would be selected in the thirteenth district.

There was a feeling at New headquarters that Senator James E. Watson, Indiana colleague of New, had not done all he could have done to assure New's nomination. Watson's home, Rush county, gave Beveridge a plurality of 623.

Beveridge supporters claimed to have carried the counties of Delaware, Davis, Morgan, Owen, Clark, Dubois, Harrison, Lawrence, Scott, Bartholomew, Decatur, Jennings, Johnson, Ohio, Vigo, Shelby, Madison, Randolph, Carroll, Hamilton, Tipton, Porter, Blackford and Miami.

A majority of the counties are in the agricultural sections and bore out Beveridge's predictions he would swing the farmer votes because they were dissatisfied with conditions in the government.

New sought re-election on the basis of Harding's administration

record and the final result will show how Indiana regarded the president's policy, it is advocated.

One of the surprising things in both the republican and democratic primary was the support received by candidates who declared themselves on a "wet" platform. None was elected to any office of importance, but Dr. Jesse A. Sanders, of Garrett who sought the democratic senatorial nomination was the proverbial dark horse. He and Sims played back and forth for second place.

The democratic vote apparently was much stronger than it has been in the recent primaries, which indicates a stiff battle in the general elections next November. More democratic ballots were rushed through the printing presses in many parts of the state to meet an unexpected demand.

Miss Esther Kathleen O'Keefe, the first woman to run for office in the thirteenth congressional district, was leading the democratic field for congress.

Republican state headquarters claimed its slate of "regular" candidates for congressional nomination would be selected. Two of the present republican delegation from Indiana were on the slate along with a new candidate, Samuel Lambdin, in the third district.

According to the information here, the republican nominees for congress will be as follows: First, O. Ray Lahring of Evansville; Second, Oscar Bland of Linton; Third, Samuel Lambdin of English; Fourth, John Benham of Benham; Fifth, Everett Sanders of Terre Haute; Sixth, Richard N. Elliott of Connersville; Seventh, Merrill Moores of Indianapolis; Eighth, Albert Vestal of Anderson; Ninth, Fred S. Parnell of Attica; Tenth, Will R. Wood of Lafayette; Eleventh, Milton Krauss of Peru; Twelfth, Louis Fairfield of Angola; and Thirteenth, Andrew J. Hickey of Laporte.

Joseph Turk, who stood on a "wet" platform for the seventh district nomination, apparently had succeeded.

SOCIETY

Edited By Miss Edna Krammes

The Woman's Missionary society of the Second Baptist church will hold a May fair in the church basement Thursday and Friday afternoon and will serve a chicken supper each evening beginning at five o'clock.

Miss Susan Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Moore, and Raymond Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, were united in marriage Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Main Street Christian parsonage by the Rev. L. E. Brown.

Mrs. George Green entertained the members of the Ladies Aid Society of the First United Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon at her home in North Morgan street. The regular program and business meeting was conducted. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

There will be a call meeting of the members of the Ladies Musical Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ed Chambers, 124 East Seventh street. All former members are urged to be present as business of importance is to be transacted and plans made to resume work in the fall after a prolonged vacation. Members who can not be present are asked to call phone 2159 or 1525.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mull entertained with a pitch-in dinner Sunday at their home southwest of the city. The guests were entertained by music and playing croquet. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gibson, and daughter Marian, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Linville and daughter Fay Jannett, Mrs. Daisy Meek, Ada Walters, Opal Linville, Clifford Smiley, Forest Moore and Herbert Stevens.

The Missionary society of the Main Street Christian church will hold their monthly meeting in the auditorium of the church on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and each member is urged to attend, as this is the meeting for the annual Easter collection, and also to entertain the missionary societies of the other churches. The program will be on Latin America Waiting for a Living Christ, with Mrs. Bert Ormes, as leader. The Bible Study, "Christianity Triumphs," by Mrs. John Borem, and special music will be rendered by Mrs. Charles Offutt. A paper, "The Country and People of Latin America" will be read by Mrs. Sarah Giffin, and Mrs. G. P. McCarty will have a reading on, "Religious Condition and Our Responsibility in Latin America." Mrs. May Stiers will talk on, "Echoes from Everywhere" and Mrs. J. J. Amos will have charge of the prayer service.

MAKES APPEAL FOR CLOTHES

Salvation Army Has More Calls For Garments Than They Can Fill

The Salvation Army is in need of clothing, and an appeal is being sent out over the city, asking that people who have wearing apparel call telephone 2259, the headquarters. The clothing is being gathered for the purpose of supplying the needy, and it is not to be sold. The Salvation Army also requested that garments which were too badly worn would not be of any use, because the people who need them cannot go to the expense of repairing and altering them, and only clothing which is yet serviceable is wanted.

Mrs. Ellis, in charge of the local corps stated that they were receiving calls for clothing every day, but the supply had been exhausted.

ALVA HAROLD DIED TODAY

Former Resident Expires of Kidney Trouble at Home in Kokomo

Word was received here this morning of the death of Alva Harold, aged about 45 years, which occurred this morning at 3 o'clock at the late residence in Kokomo, Ind. Mr. Harold was well known in this city having moved from his farm west of the city, to Kokomo, two years ago. The deceased had been suffering from kidney trouble for several weeks, the affliction having caused his death.

The widow, one son, Aaron and a daughter Hazel, survive. The funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the late residence and burial will take place in Kokomo.

TO ABOLISH ALL OUTSIDE TOILETS

abide by the ordinance. The penalty is a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100, and each day which is overrun after notice has been given, constitutes a separate offense.

The law briefly sets out that animal manure must be securely protected from flies; that filthy or littered cellars, houses, lots, yards, etc., must be kept clean; vaults, pits, and other places which breed flies must be protected; garbage must be contained in metal receptacles, and not wooden buckets; trash, litter and other accumulations which might cause a fire hazard, must be abolished; stable and barns which house animals, must be cleaned, and disinfected at least every 30 days in the months of April, May, June, July, August and September, and manure must be placed in water tight, fly tight containers.

The provision calling for the abolishing of outside toilets, sets out that all property which is in reasonable distance of a sewer connection, must be connected with a flush toilet, and outside vaults emptied before being filled in with dirt.

A section of the ordinance sets out that in places where sewer connections are impossible, outside toilets can be maintained, provided they meet with the required stipulations of being air tight, fly tight, sanitary and free from odor, and regularly cleaned.

The law defines the above sections as applying to any dwelling, store, shop, factory, hotel, restaurant or any building where people live or work, and the period of six months is given for the improvements to be made.

Dr. R. O. Kennedy, city health officer, was highly responsible for the new ordinance, and the power of enforcing every detail of the law is vested in him, who has legal power to enforce it. Property owners who refuse to connect with the sewer are not only liable to arrest, but the officer may order the work done, and the costs assessed against the property on the tax duplicate.

The Reynolds Manufacturing Company was granted permission to repair the street for a half block on West Ninth, near their factory, by putting on a new rock surface, and building new gutters and curb, with proper drainage.

Bryan Carr was hired by the councilmen as a member of the fire department, making the sixth man on the department. This will give each vehicle two men, with two for the chemical truck, two for the horse drawn hose wagon, and two for the motor pumper.

An order was placed last night with the Eureka Fire hose company for 400 feet of new hose, at the cost of $1.15 a foot, and this will give the department about 3,000 feet of first class hose with their apparatus.

The council also decided to trade in the Ford automobile now used by the Water and Light plant, for a new one, and the matter of trading in two lots north of the plant with R. L. Tompkins was left in the hands of the committee with power to act.

The plant is in need of more room, and a trade can be made with Mr. Tompkins to receive electric current instead of cash for the two lots which adjoin the plant on the north side of the street, and upon which are located two dwelling houses.

Look Upward.

If we look down, then our shoulders stoop. If our thoughts look down, our character bends. It is only when we hold our heads up that the body becomes erect. It is only when our thoughts go up that our life becomes erect.—Alexander McKenzie.

From Ohio we hear:

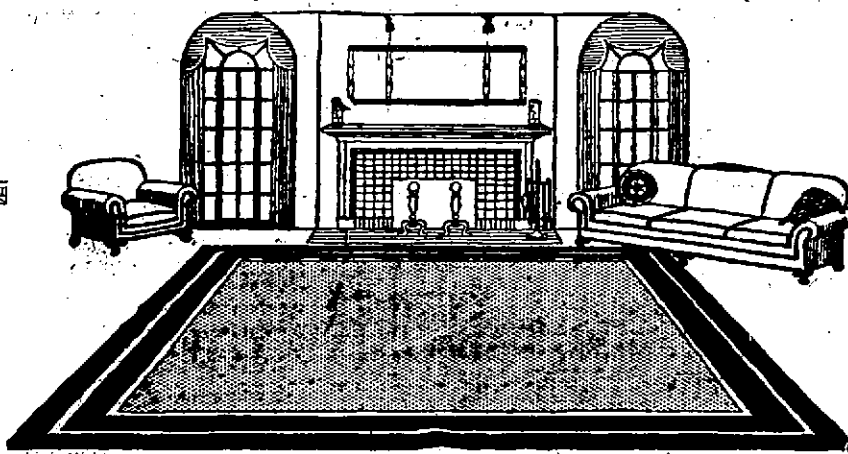

"I decided to bake two cakes at the same time, using Royal Baking Powder in one, and another powder in the other. The cake made with Royal was so appetizing and delicious, so finely grained and wholesome that in comparison, the other cake was not a cake."
